Truck Bed Covers - Tonneau Covers

There are many types and brands of tonneau covers out there and not all of them promise what they offer. The BAK Flip tonneau cover is the first of its kind that offers you the security and protection of a truck bed cover but also gives you full access to your truck bed so that you do not need to constantly remove and install your tonneau cover each time you need your entire bed space. We understand that a truck bed cover on your vehicle should not be something that is meant to be permanently installed on your truck. Instead it should allow you the flexibility of having your bed closed and secured or fully open for large cargo space. Most other tonneau covers on the market will not allow you to place items on top of the cover because they are simply not built for that or can damage the cover with weight on top of it. Each one of the BAK truck bed covers, BAK Flip tonneau cover, Roll BAK tonneau cover and Tilt BAK tonneau cover, can hold from 300 to 500 of distributed weight on top of it so that you can load cargo on top of your tonneau cover for double the cargo room. All BAK tonneau covers are weather-proof to keep your precious cargo dry and protected from any damage the elements can provide. They are weather-proofed with either seals or drainage systems to keep water out of your truck bed and away from your cargo. The BAK tonneau covers come with a factory warranty to ensure that all tonneau covers are free of any defects and properly fit your truck bed for optimal functionality. At Truck Tonneau Covers USA we believe in offering quality products to consumers so that they can obtain the best products out in the market.

Product Packaging

The BAK tonneau covers are shipped in the most secure packaging that UPS has to offer. At the manufacturer BAK Industries they place the tonneau cover into a box and once inside they fill in the empty space with a type of expandable liquid that turns into a foam and surrounds every inch of the tonneau cover so there is no room for the cover to move around when being transported and therefore will cause no damage to the tonneau cover so that it can arrive in perfect condition. The packaging process provides 100% impact resistance for your tonneau cover when being handled and transported throughout the shipping process. Check out the Packaging video in our “Videos” portion of the website so that you can see the process of packaging the tonneau covers at the manufacturing place.
